

Assignment 1

Build an ontology for computer software.

Do not even think about building a complete ontology.
Identify some relevant and manageable portion of the domain.
Identify concepts and attributes.
Identify a computable and a human readable component.
Determine the organization of the portion of the domain.

Write down the concepts and attributes in human readable form
(deliverable)

Construct a small database to manage the ontology (deliverable)

Build a report on your efforts (deliverable).

Due date: June 11, 2007